

The Importance of Story Retelling

Story retelling is another important skill that we focus on in preschool. We begin with simple, repetitive counting stories, (such as 5 Little Ladybugs or 5 Green and Speckled Frogs) and progress to more complex stories with a setting, characters, and plot. Practicing this ability to recount a story is an essential skill for reading comprehension. Many times, students will make their own retelling props to make this activity meaningful and enjoyable!
